
Corporate Volunteer Program

United Way of the Columbia Willamette helps companies from the Greater Portland/ Vancouver metropolitan area get directly involved in improving their communities through year-round, flexible volunteer programs. We make it easy for your employee team to lend their talents and energy to local nonprofit organizations.

Types of Volunteer Opportunities

- Hands-on volunteer events: Participate in a meaningful volunteer activity tailored to your company's interests and needs. Events can be light, medium, or heavy duty and range from helping an agency at an event to painting and landscaping.
- Material donations: Start a collection drive at your company to help a Community Impact partner distribute items such as food, school supplies, personal hygiene items, and blankets, to those in need. United Way provides attractive, heavy-duty donation boxes.
- Holiday giving: Get involved in adopting a family or buying toys for children who would otherwise go without. Our comprehensive list of service opportunities will match you with the season's critical needs.

Benefits for Employers

- Enhances public image, which can build market share and customer loyalty.
- Improves teamwork and project management skills that can be applied to the workplace.
- Strengthens employee relations and communications.
- Teaches social/corporate responsibility and commitment to the community by example.

Benefits for Employees:

- Provides a sense of fulfillment and a new appreciation for the workplace environment.
- Enhances team building skills and promotes better interpersonal relationships.
- Enables employees to learn first-hand about the needs in their community.

To learn more about planning a Helping Hands volunteer event or project contact Jessica Daniels at (503)226-9355 or jessicad@unitedway-pdx.org.