

UWCW seeks our next President/CEO

An exciting opportunity to lead the organization to address poverty, advance racial equity and foster systemic and sustainable change for kids and families in our region

At United Way of the Columbia-Willamette (UWCW), we've been bringing the community together to do good for nearly 100 years. Our mission is ambitious, yet simple: Invest in our region's kids so they are free from poverty and free to reach their potential.

Addressing the root causes of poverty is our priority. In doing so, we put racial equity at the center of our work because research shows that kids and families of color face social and economic disparities that deter the progress of our community as a whole. We work with organizations in our region to address these disparities and strive to create a more equitable region that benefits everyone - and our next President/CEO will lead the charge in these endeavors.

Our next President/CEO will strive to leverage UWCW's breadth of community presence, relationships and strategy, working across the private, public, and corporate sectors to improve conditions in our community, while also serving as UWCW's lead fundraiser. Our next President/CEO will:

- Have experience establishing a multi-faceted vision for community impact that aligns with UWCW's mission.
- Value diversity, inclusion, and different perspectives and cultures.
- Have a proven track record of community leadership, commitment to equity and authentic relationships with diverse communities.
- Be effective at generating financial support, have a growth mindset and enjoy building and cultivating a network of relationships.
- Display high personal standards of integrity, honesty, character, wisdom and good judgement.

WE OFFER MORE THAN A MISSION

- The opportunity to work closely with a Board of Directors that is supportive of, and open to innovative strategies to achieve increased community impact, including raising the funds to support it.
- A mission-driven culture committed to working with diverse communities.
- A work culture that is collaborative and supportive of a healthy work-life balance.
- Participation in local and national conferences and culturally-specific leadership programs.
- A comprehensive benefits package.

Diversity and inclusion are fundamental values to United Way, both internally and externally. To learn more about this position and to apply, please visit: www.unitedway-pdx.org/about/careers or scan the QR code.
